Adding an Additional Test Case

Now let's assume you want to add another test case to test suite PurchaseOrderExample.

Start the PurchaseOrderExample service and run the test case. It will turn red and display "Requested persistent state object does not exist." This is correct - an order n° 4 wasn't created and will never been created during the tests.

Switch back to the Regression Test Tool again.

The error is due to a time stamp in the error message returned by the Bridge. The error by itself is correct as there is no order n° 4.

Add this XML element to the differences to ignore of this single test case and re-run the test suite. It is green now.
